

The fault tolerant CR80D may be used as a front end processor or as a stand-alone multiprocessor system. The photo shows a front end system capable of supporting 24 communication lines. Larger systems can support several thousand lines - each with up to 64 Kbit/sec.